CONTENTS.

ORIGINAL COMMUNICATIONS.

Page

1. MITCHELL's account of the Yellow Fever in Virginia in 1741-2 1
2. Kearſley's obſervations on the difference between the Yellow Fever of Pennſylvania and Virginia 20
3. Dryſdale's hiſtory of the Yellow Fever at Baltimore in 1794 (No. I.) 22
4. Stuart's account of the ſalutary effects of ligatures in the laſt ſtage of a violent caſe of Yellow Fever 43
5. Otto, on the effects of arſenic in three caſes of Eruption 47
6. Coxe's hiſtory of a caſe of Tetanus, in which large quantities of the tincture of cantharides were ineffectually employed 52
7. Ruſh's (Dr. Benjamin) account of the efficacy of ſugar of lead in curing Epilepſy 60
8. Ruſh's (Dr. John) account of Reſuſcitation in a caſe of ſuppoſed death from Yellow Fever 62
9. Phyſick's hiſtory of a caſe of Aneuriſm (with a plate) 65
10. Baldwin's account of the Yellow Fever at Liſburn in 1803 67
11. James's account of Vaccination at the Alms houſe of Philadelphia, &c. 69
12. Coxe's obſervations on accidents ariſing from burns, ſcalds, &c. 72
13. Horſefield's account of a voyage to Batavia 75
14. Rodman's Table of the comparative temperature of the air and of the water of the ocean in a voyage to Batavia 83
15. Dryſdale's hiſtory of the Yellow Fever at Baltimore in 1794, (No. II.) 121
16. Williamſon's obſervations on Chorea Sancti Viti 149
17. Coxe's account of an Albino 151
18. Watkin's account of the efficacy of yeaſt in typhus fever 156
19. Paſcalis's account of an abſceſs of the liver, terminating favourably by evacuation through the lungs 158
20. Dewees's eſſay on ſuperfœtation 162
21. Farquhar's account of the climate of Jamaica 175

Page.

22. Biſhop's deſcription of Dr. Phyſick's improved gorget (with a plate) 186
23. Hutchinſon's deſcription of his improved ſplints (with a plate) 187
24. Phyſick's account of the uſe of bliſters in checking the progreſs of mortification 189
25. Jenning's account of the effects of labour in the cure of pulmonary conſumption 194
26. Woodhouſe's obſervations on the mode of refining camphor (with a plate) 197
27. Dryſdale's hiſtory of the yellow fever at Baltimore in 1794 (No. III.) 241
28. Farquhar's account of the angina maligna 266
29. Dewees' examination of Dr. Oſborn's opinion of the phyſical neceſſity of pain and difficulty in human parturition 270
30. Smith's account of a ſingular caſe of hemorrhage 284
31. Account of other ſingular caſes of hemorrhage 286
32. Burton's account of the ſucceſsful treatment of menorrhagia 290
33. Watkin's account of the efficacy of poke-berry juice in hemorrhoids 291
34. Sharp's account of two caſes of rheumatiſm, cured by fear and loſs of blood, &c. &c. 292
35. Account of an extraordinary cure of a wounded inteſtine 294
36. Hendrick's account of a perſon living 14 years without any diſcharge from the alimentary canal 304
37. Coxe's caſe of vaccine of uncommon magnitude (with a plate) 305
38. Biſhop's deſcription of Dr. Phyſick's improved biſtoury (with a plate) 307
39. Hamilton's account of the Agave Americana (with a plate) 308
40. Strong's account of his axle tourniquet (with a plate) 311
41. Sim's account of the cure of dropſy by blood-letting 316
42. Ruſh's (Dr. B.) account of the cure of conſumption by opium, cordial drinks, and animal food 318
43. Church's obſervations on Goldſon's pamphlet, &c. 323
44. Phillips's account of the purification of pomatum by Charcoal 326
45. Dryſdale's hiſtory of the yellow fever at Baltimore in 1794, (No. IV.) 261
46. Dewees's obſervations on Denman's aphoriſms 374
47. Sayre's obſervations on dyſentery 391
48. Vaughan, on the efficacy of olive oil as a purgative:—on the cure of an intermittent by naſal hemorrhage:—and on a chronic intermittent ſuſpended by a ſcald 397
49. Ankrim's caſe of intermittent cured by epiſtaxis 400
50. Spence's obſervations on vaccination at Dumfries, Virginia, &c. &c. 401
51. Griffiths' (Dr. E.) hiſtory and diſſection of a caſe of clonic ſpaſm 407
52. Paſcalis, on ſyphilitic agonorrhœa 410
53. Stuart, on the occaſional injurious effects of leeches 416
54. Humphrey's caſe of palſy cured by lightning, &c. 420

Page.

55. Rouſſeau's caſe of vaccine and ſmall pox 424
56. Hayes, on cold bathing in chronic diarrhœa, &c. 427
57. Phyſick's caſe of luxation of the thigh bone (with a plate) 428
58. Coxe's caſe of luxation of the thigh bone 430
59. Shaw's account of an epidemic ophthalmia 432
60. Hutchinſon, on nitric acid in ſyphilis 433
61. Coxe's obſervations on vaccination 434
62. Woodhouſe's obſervations on the Lehigh coal 441

MEDICAL AND PHILOSOPHICAL REGISTER.

1. Medical graduation in the Univerſity of Pennſylvania 86
2. Election of officers of the college of phyſicians 87
3. American Philoſophical Society new members admitted, &c. &c. ibid.
4. Miſſiſſippi Society for the acquirement and diſſemination of uſeful knowledge 89
5. American Academy of the fine arts 90
6. Diſeaſes in the Philadelphia Diſpenſary 91
7. Information from London—Ching's worm medicine 93
8. Harriſon's opinion of the cauſe of the rot in ſheep 94
9. Copal varniſh, beſt mode of preparing 95
10. Epſom ſalts found in Virginia ibid.
11. Bedford ſprings (Penn.) account of ibid.
12. Vaccine virus preſerved moiſt nearly four months 98
13. Vaccine ſcab beſt mode of preſerving the infection ibid.
14. Prophylactic power of the vaccine proved at the inſtitution—Golden Square 99
15. Proof of the vaccine originating in the greaſe of the horſe ibid.
16. Vaccine diſcovered to be a preſervative againſt the ſmall pox in South America 100
17. Pruſſic acid contained in the aqua lauro-ceraſi ibid.
18. Pruſſic acid new n de to prepare 101
19. Palladium—a compound of platina and mercury ibid.
20. Acetite of lead eaten without injury ibid.
21. Ants, curious mode of procuring food ibid.
22. Galvanic experiments on a beheaded perſon 102
23. A live worm found in the liver 103
24. Sur-oxygenated muriatic acid ſucceſsfully uſed in Scabies, &c. ibid.
25. Burnt ſponge recommended in Bronchocele ibid.

	Page.
26. Bite of a viper cured by aqua kali puri	105
27. Population of Great Britain	106
28. Cooper's anatomy, and ſurgical treatment of Inguinal and Congenital Hernia	107
29. American Philoſophical Tranſactions	112
30. Abſtract of meteorological obſervations for 6 years	201
31. Extracts from " A ſtatement of evidence from trials by inoculation," &c. &c. &c. in proof of the prophylactic power of vaccination	215
32. Additional remarks and proof on the ſame ſubject	224
33. Hacket's ſhort account of the mortality at Duck Creek in 1720	226
34. Monington's ſhort account of the mortality at Philadelphia in 1700	227
35. M'Cleland's ſhort account of the diſeaſes in Franklin county(Penn.) 1804.	228
36. Fatal influence of the Shamaul or hot wind of the deſart	ibid.
37. Brickell's proof of an exceſs of alkali in the ſtomach	ibid.
38. Michelotti's reſearches reſpecting the action exerciſed by caloric on the vitality of animals	229
39. Difference of the bones of animals and man	ibid.
40. Ochroit earth, a new diſcovered one	231
41. Suberic and oxalic acid, obtained from paper	ibid.
42. Diſtinguiſhing property between the galvanic and electric fluids	ibid.
43. Iridium and oſmium, new metals diſcovered in platina	232
44. Woodhouſe's receipt for an indelible ink	ibid.
45. Georgia Medical Society, inſtituted	233
46. American Philoſophical Society, donations, &c.	234
47. ..... election of officers	327
48. ..... election of new members	ibid.
49. ..... communications, &c. to	328
50. Medical Society of North Carolina—election of officers	330
51. Canine appetite—conſumption of food in	ibid.
52. Polyphagia—caſe of—from the Bulletin des Sciences. Note	ibid.
53. Stones found in the alimentary canal of a horſe	332
54. Diſeaſes of the Philadelphia diſpenſary	333
55. Abſtract of meteorological obſervations for 1804	335
56. Buchholz', method of preparing emetic tartar	337
57. Artificial muſk recommended in hooping cough	ibid.
58. Charcoal powder in tinea capitis	339
59. Extent of vaccine inoculation in the ſmall pox hoſpital	340
60. Sacco on the vaccine infection	ibid.
60. ..... on the equine and vaccine infection, &c.	341
61. Vaccine not a preventive of plague	342
62. Jenner, on the ſuppoſed failures of the vaccine	ibid.
63. Tardy appearance of the vaccine diſeaſe	343

Page.

64. Child preſerved by vaccination after 5 days expoſure to ſmall pox 343
65. The 18th attempt to produce the vaccine, ſucceſsful 344
66. Report on a pharmaceutic memoir of Cit. Dubuc. ibid.
67. Azotic Gas abſorbed in reſpiration 349
68. Oxyde of Cobalt, tried in certain diſeaſes 350
69. Transfuſion of blood from a ſound to a diſeaſed horſe 351
70. Sugar obtained from froſted potatoes 352
71. Phoſphate of ſoda—to make ibid.
72. Strong proof of the prophylactic power of vaccination 353
73. Vaccine ſociety of Lauſanne offer a reward to thoſe who take the ſmall-pox after vaccination 354
74. Polarity of the needle deſtroyed by garlick ibid.
75. Zincum vitriolatum, its uſe to obviate atony, &c. occurring after dyſentery 355
76. White vitriol, its uſe in agues ibid.
77. Acetite of zinc in gonorrhœa, &c. ibid.
78. Artificial peat, to prepare 356
79. Philadelphia Medical Society, election of officers 357
80. Notice reſpecting this ſociety 358
81. American Philoſophical Society—election of members—donations, &c. 445
82. Magellanic premium—conditions of 447
83. ..... Surplus fund—conditions of 448
84. Woodhouſe, on the diſcovery of manganeſe in Pennſylvania 449
85. Otto, on the uſe of the vaccine ſcab 451
86. De Carro, on the vaccine ſcab 452
87. ..... on the knowledge of the Bramins of the cow pock 453
88. Bremer on the efficacy of vaccination ibid.
89. Vaccine inoculation—ſtatement of—from the royal Jennerian ſociety, &c. 454
90. Decreaſe of deaths from ſmall pox ibid.
91. Thornton's remarks on the ſuppoſed temporary efficacy of the vaccine 456
92. Detection of falſe reports againſt the vaccine ibid.
93. Comparative view of the vaccine and ſmall pox 457
94. Peach trees cultivated from cuttings 459
95. Dupuytren, on the formation of the larynx in eunuchs 461
96. Buchholz's experiments on hydrargyrus muriatus mitis ibid.
97. Death produced in a child from the external uſe of arſenic 462
98. Ferguſon's recommendation of the ſulphat of ſoda poultice in chancre, &c. ibid.
99. Facts reſpecting the gain of the ſea on the land, and the reverſe 463
100. Veau de Launay's account of an accident from fulminating ſilver 464
101. Royal Humane ſociety, on the means of reſtoring ſuſpended animation 465
102. Royal Humane ſociety, honorary premium, &c. to be adjudged in 1806 467

		Page.
103.	Phoſphorus—a mode to obtain—propoſed as preferable to any other	468
104.	Heat diſengaged by the compreſſion of air	ibid.
105.	Strauſs's mode of coating copper with platina	ibid.
106.	Longevity—extraordinary inſtance of	469
107.	Longevity, &c.—another inſtance of	470
108.	Weſtring, on the bark of the pinus ſylveſtris as a ſubſtitute for cinchona	ibid.
109.	Great heat of the anchor of a ſhip during an eruption of Veſuvius	ibid.
110.	Curious effect of anger in a boy	ibid.
111.	A live toad found incloſed in pit coal 600 feet below the ſurface	471
112.	A live toad found in a ſolid rock	ibid.
113.	A trout caught with two heads	ibid.
114.	Oliferous China radiſh cultivated for its oil	ibid.
115.	Yeaſt—an artificial—as prepared in Germany and Sweden	472
116.	Briſtol aſylum for the indigent blind—account of	ibid.
117.	Jeſſop's improved mode of blaſting rocks	473
118.	Facts aſcertained by Gay Luſſac in his aërial voyage	ibid.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

1.	Ruſh on Ardent Spirits	113
2.	Ffirth on Malignant Fever	114
3.	Jenks's Eſſay on the analogy of Plague and Yellow Fever	235
4.	Ruſh's Elements of Life	238
5.	Barton's Philadelphia Medical and Phyſical Journal	ibid.
6.	Johnſon's Friendly Cautions to the heads of families	239
7.	Caldwell's ſelection of Medical Theſes	359
8.	Waterhouſe's public Lecture on Tobacco, &c.	474
9.	Caldwell's Tranſlation of Default on Fractures, &c.	475
10.	Goodwyn on the Connexion of Life with Reſpiration, &c.	479
11.	Barton's Philadelphia Medical and Phyſical Journal	ibid.
12.	Notices of intended publications	240, 360, 479
13.	Deaths	120, 240, 360, 479
14.	Notices to correſpondents	120, 240, 360, 480
15.	Errata	360, 480